Market and Broad Merchants Urge Haste to No Avail at Meeting.

It was learned from some of the members of the Board of Works after yesterday's meeting that action in the Market street paving matter will in all likelihood be deferred until Commissioner Budd recovers from his illness and resumes his seat in the board. Mr. Budd has always manifested a deep interest in the Market street paving discussion, and it is deemed only fair to hold the matter in abeyance until he is able to take part in the disposition of the matter.

Another large delegation of Market street business men was present at the meeting, and they renewed their argumnts in favor of an early decision in the paving matter.

Edward P. Duffield was present to represent the Prudential Insurance Company, and told the board that the company was strongly in favor of a smooth, noiseless pavement He suggested, however, that monolithic asphalt be adopted, instead of wood blocks, but added that whatever was done should be done quickly.

Louis Schlesinger said he knew of upper edge of the course near the two very important improvements that and handicapping business by withholding action in this matter," added.

Lee Ottolengui, Joseph Sugarman, and Milo Borden also spoke in favor of wood blocks, but said they would favor any noiseless pavement, so long as something was done this year.

The board did not announce when it would take action, and the matter rests in the same shape that it has for several weeks past.

Commissioner Mungle brought to a head a matter that has been hanging fire for some time when he referred to the threatened confiscation of storm doors, projecting show-windows and covered approaches to buildings. He took the ground that there are cases where Superintendent of Works Shipman should be allowed to use his dis cretion in removing alleged street ob-structions, and referred particularly to the covered approaches to the Newark Theatre, Waldmann's and the Continental Hotel. These, he said, he con sidered public benefits in stormy weather, and should be permitted to remain, as they were of real use to the people.

Commissioner Denman said that while he appreciated the merits of these special cases, it was not within the province of the board to grant privileges in isolated cases, and that the ordinance permitted no discretion in the removal of street obstructions.

It was agreed by the board that the superintendent of works can use no discrimination in enforcing the law, and he will be looked to for a strict compliance with the terms of the ordi-

The board decided to arrange the work of the street cleaning department so that the employees will be employed eight horus a day, or as near it as the weather will permit. The schedule of working hours has been cut consider-ably of late, and many complaints have been received. The new system will changes these conditions.

It was also decided to appoint on general superintendent for all three public baths and to arrange different hours when these places will be open to

In view of the increasing amount of business that the board has to handle, it was decided to hold all committee meetings, with the exception of the finance committee, on Tuesday after-noons at 1 o'clock. At present the board is in session from 1 o'clock to nearly 6 o'clock every Thursday, and even then some matters are given only part of the attention they deserve. The new arrangement will facilitate the work of the board and enable the members to give more deliberate considera bers to give more deliberate consideration to various important matters that are shortly to be considered.

The Public Service Corporation notified the board that 219 cars are now equipped with the new "car full" signs.
Superintendent Shipman was granted a month's vacation, and James Hallock will likely be appointed to take his place during his absence.

After the meeting the board went to the Newark watershed district and renained over night, returning this after-
